Wild Night Of Firing In Marrowbone District

RELFEST, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—A wild night of firing in the Marrowbone district of Belfast with police and soldiers battling gunmen was followed by further shooting today as the working people were on their way to the shops. At least four men are dead as a result of these disorders and several others wounded, some seriously.

A concerted attack was made upon the Musgrave street police barracks. Seven men dressed in police uniforms knocked at the front gate. When the guard asked "Who's there?" the reply came, "Police on duty." The gate was opened and the party entered. The invaders closed the door and ordered the guards to throw their hands up. Two of the police showed fight and were wounded by members of the attacking party who rushed upstairs to a room in which arms were stored, firing at the guard on duty. Help came at this juncture, however, from special constables outside the barracks and the raiders fled over the wall at the rear of the building. Constable Collins, who was wounded in the fighting died today. The condition of Constable McKeown, the other defender wounded, is not serious.

Pinchot Beats Geo. E. Alter In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—A steady increase in his lead over Attorney General George E. Alter for the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania was maintained by Gifford Pinchot, former state forester, who was prominent in the progressive party movement led by Theodore Roosevelt in 1911 and 1914. Pinchot jumped into the lead early last night when about seven thousand of 7,934 districts in the state had reported their unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary and nearly every additional district heard from during the night increased his majority.

With 426 districts missing, Pinchot early today had a lead of 8,027, the unofficial vote in the 7,543 districts reporting giving him a total of 493,986, against 488,959 for Alter. Pinchot obtained his lead from districts outside of Philadelphia, and all Allegheny county, in which Pittsburgh is located and as most of the missing districts are in sections where Pinchot showed the greatest strength, his advantage was expected to grow as more returns were received.

Outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny, Pinchot's vote in 7,508 districts was 324,518 against 190,037 for Alter. The latter carried Philadelphia by 83,048 and in Allegheny from a few districts still to be heard from, he had a lead of 43,794, the total vote in these two counties being Alter, 297,766, and Pinchot, 170,924.

Alter, according to the unofficial returns, carried only seven of the 67 counties in the state, in addition to Philadelphia and Allegheny, the latter his home county, they were Dauphin, in which Harrisburg is located; Delaware, the home of Governor Sproul; Fayette, Greene and Elk. Alter's supporters have conceded Pinchot's nomination and estimate today of his margin of victory.

Hoover's Plan Of Keeping Soft Coal Prices Down Approved By Operators

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Secretary Hoover asked and obtained today the approval of the leading operators of non-union bituminous coal fields for a government plan of "getting the coal industry by voluntary action to put a stop on increase of coal prices" during the period of the existing coal strike.

The plan, which was approved by about 40 presidents who met with Mr. Hoover, calls for the creation of a committee of operators with government and consumers representatives serving on it in each district, where coal is being produced, through which all orders for coal will be cleared. A similar general committee will be set up in Washington and Mr. Hoover assured the coal operators that he had Attorney General Daugherty's opinion that such "co-operative action to reduce and hold down prices in the public interest" would be legal.

Oles Says He'll Stick 'Till Bounced

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—George L. Oles probably will remain mayor of Youngstown, despite the ruling of the supreme court of Ohio yesterday that municipal nominations on an independent ticket, such as his, are illegal. The mayor's acts are legal as long as no one challenges his position, legal experts pointed out today, and so far no one has been found who intends to bring action.

Politicians remembering the storm of public protest which arose at efforts to invalidate Oles' election last fall, are hesitating now, as they hastened then, to deny that they will have anything to do with any onerous proceedings. The abortive movement last fall was based on the contention that Oles' promise to give his bribe.

As for Oles, he declared today that he will "stick until I'm put out," and added that it didn't matter much any way, for if he were put out here he intends to "go to Columbus and run things there." He is an independent candidate for governor.

Seven Day Freight Service From Chicago To Europe Is Planned

CHICAGO, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Products manufactured in Chicago may be delivered in Europe in seven days if the race started today under the auspices of the Chicago Association of Commerce proves successful. It is hoped to establish a record for the fastest freight shipment from Chicago to Southampton, England, and to prove the necessity for a fast package freight service from here to Europe.

By use of a special forty-eight hour freight train over the New York Central, a car load loading arrangement in New York and the world's largest steamship, the Majestic, they hope to make the shipment in exactly one week.

A. W. McLaren, traffic manager of Morris and Company, has charge of the experiment. The shipment left here at 1:30 a. m. today and the trip across the ocean will be started Saturday morning.

Arab Tribes Opposed To Mandate

DAMASCUS, SYRIA, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The rising of the Syrian people against the French, who occupied the country under mandate, has spread rapidly during the last fortnight throughout Syria and adjoining states and is assuming the character of open rebellion.

The Syrians complain of heavy taxation and demand the abrogation of the French mandate and the right to impose their own taxes.

When Charles R. Crane, former American minister to China, came to Damascus this month, leading Syrians complained to him of their heavy taxation and other grievances and asked for American help in obtaining relief. Mr. Crane's departure was followed by the arrest of several prominent Syrians, who had spoken with him. The imprisonment of Dr. Sahadant Gandhi has added to the discontent.

The Arab tribes at Radmore and neighboring districts have revolted and have asked the tribes of trans-Jordan to help them win political independence. In the district of Garablis the revolutionaries forced French troops to withdraw from Deir Elzour.

In this city, popular feeling runs high. Damascians are still under martial law. No gatherings on the streets are permitted.

The executive committee of the confederation of Syrian committees on May 1 addressed a cablegram to President Harding, which said:

"Imperialists are making mandated people enslaved colonies," expressed the determination of Syria to refuse the mandate of France and asked for the help of the United States to this end.

Another message was sent to the council of the League of Nations at Geneva, demanding the withdrawal of the mandate to France and that French troops be removed from the country.

The council of the league has not yet passed on the question, but Geneva dispatches yesterday stated that France was expected to ask approval of her mandate at a meeting of the council on July 15 as the consent of the United States under certain conditions was expected.

DRIVER OF "DEATH CAR" REVEALS THE DETAILS TO POLICE

CHICAGO, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Police today made public a confession said by them to have been obtained from John Miller, alleged driver of the car from which shots were fired, killing two Chicago policemen May 9, in the so-called labor war. The two men with Miller in the car, according to his confession, were Charles Doudzanskis, alias "Fedorick," and "Floater" Stanley. Search for the men was started today.

Indictment of at least four more persons, one a woman, will be asked of the grand jury today in connection with the police hunt for "terrorists" who police say are operating in protest against the Landis wage award, a decision handed down by K. M. Landis, former federal judge acting as an arbitrator to settle differences between contractors and members of the Chicago building trades council.

Miller's confession was obtained, police say, when he was confronted with evidence connecting him with the slaying of Terrence Lyons, acting lieutenant, and Thomas Clark, patrolman, on guard over a building being erected under the Landis award.

"Doudzanskis and Stanley asked me to drive them around, as they had a job on hand and wanted to look the ground over," police say Miller's confession reads.

"They told me to drive them down to Twenty-second and Lumber streets. When we got there a policeman came up and stopped us. Doudzanskis drew a gun and fired when he was being searched. We drove away, but a police car later drove up and ordered us to halt. Again Doudzanskis fired.

"We deserted the car and I reported it stolen to the police," authorities say the confession reads.

The object, said the ambassador, was more fully to explain the attitude of the United States in order to make it clear beyond the possibility of a doubt.

Many Killed In Disaster In Rome

ROME, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—A disastrous fire swept the historic hospital of Santo Spirito, one of the most ancient and picturesque charitable institutions in Rome, early today. Collapse of the pavement isolated the chronic ward. Sixteen bodies had been extracted from the burning ruins at 7:30 o'clock.

The institution accommodates nearly 5,000 inmates and includes a hospital, lunatic asylum, foundling home and a refuge for aged and infirm persons. The fire broke out shortly before midnight in the laundry. At first it seemed insignificant, but it spread rapidly to the neighboring wards, each containing 30 chronic sufferers or infirm patients, who were seized with panic. The shrieks of the sufferers mingled with the crackling of the flames while the atmosphere rapidly became dense with smoke.

Nurses and doctors quickly cleared the bed-ridden from one ward and in the next ward three of the patients crawled out. Neighboring wards rushed to the scene, but at the moment of their arrival the electric lights were extinguished, adding to the horror of the situation.

As the immense wooden beams of the hospital fell, there was a heavy grinding noise and the pavement collapsed, burying 20 of the chronic patients and rendering access to the wards impossible.

Carabinieri, royal guards, nurses and doctors made heroic efforts to save the patients, rushing through the smoke and fire and bringing out 12, all of whom, however, were dead from suffocation. Several of the rescue parties were injured. The two wards were destroyed, but the firemen saved the rest of the buildings.

The mayor and the prefect hurried to the scene and assisted in calming the terror-stricken patients who were saved and who lay on the floors waiting to be moved to the surrounding institutions.

Sixteen bodies already have been recovered. Four other patients were badly injured and one dangerously injured.

The hospital Santo Spirito is situated on the bank of the River Tiber, not far from the Vatican grounds. It was founded by Pope Innocent III in the twelfth century, enlarged by Innocent IV in the thirteenth and rebuilt under Sixtus IV in the fifteenth.

The altar in the hospital chapel was designed by Andrea Palladio, and is reputed to be the only work of this artist in Rome.

Bootleggers So Thick Squad Hired To Guard The Piers

NEW YORK, May 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Bootleggers are so thick along the water front that the Atlantic Fruit Company has had to hire a squad of ex-pugilists to guard its pier from the swarms who meet every ship in the hope of re-stocking.

This became known today when "Gunboat" Smith led his squad into action against several motorboat loads who sped up to the dock just as the Princess May, in bound from Jamaica, made fast.

Smith said that the bootleggers, displaying bank rolls, called on members of the crew to produce liquor. Smith's party floored four of the men who had climbed onto the pier, but to fight the rest of the landing party and then, jumping into a skiff, drove off the motor boats.

Two shots from the bootleggers were fired.

Women played a big part in the result. Hundreds of them were in the thick of the campaign in all sections of the state in the interest of Pinchot.

Pinchot women's committees were organized in nearly all the larger cities and many of them toured the state in his behalf. Mrs. Pinchot in a statement today said it was the women who had brought about the victory.

"It is impossible to express what we owe to the women workers," she said. "It is the thousands who faithfully performed every possible service that has brought victory. It was not only the leaders, but those in the every day walk of life, who went from house to house in town or country, canvassing for Mr. Pinchot that brought about the final result. It is spring time and there has been many a postponed house cleaning that my husband might ride to victory."

"One thing has been very noticeable. The women work entirely on principle. If they think a certain candidate the right one and a man who stands for the property ideals, they will spare nothing to make him successful. The men cling to party and ties of friendship, but the women have proved by their wholehearted support that they believe in clean and honest government."

United States Senator George Wharton Pepper had a walk over in the only other contest in the Republican party, defeating Congressman-at-large William J. Burke for the nomination for the unexpired term of the late Senator Penrose by a big majority. Unofficial returns from 6,236 districts out of 7,434 in the state gave Pepper a majority of more than 211,000.

Four of the 30 Republican members of the Pennsylvania congressional delegation apparently were defeated. Latest figures show that Representatives Evan J. Jones, Benjamin K. Pocht, Charles R. Connell and Anderson H. Walters were beaten.

Several women were nominated for the state legislature, to be voted for next November by both Republicans and Democrats.

Two women were nominated by the Democrats for representative in congress.

Money Is Found

It was reported Thursday that a sneak thief had stolen $75 from the safe of the Sommer Electric company on Gallia street. Mr. Sommer shared in the belief until he located the money.

Hopkins, Bond and Donahoe have promised the boys one big night and they'll be there in full force, ready to work, play or eat, or most anything else that comes within range of the boys' capacity, unless it would be wash his neck and ears, but then it is promised that none of them will be called upon to do this, and therefore a full attendance is expected.

Sweet young thing cranking silver while a big husky cake eater sat in the car and fiddled with the spark.

Married man peeping in lobby of P. O. to see if "wifey" was parked there.

Man past 75 running pop joint for his grandsons and he wore a self-satisfied smile.

A flapper flapping away into fix joint and then flopped right out again when no one flapped up with the price of a drink.

Former saloonkeeper totting four crates of strawberries home. Do not put too much sugar with them. It's better a little tart.

A big broad shouldered heavy jawed boob lapping on an all day sucker and never missed a lick.

PARENTS INSPECT SCHOOL WORK

This afternoon, from three to five, the Schotville high school was thrown open for inspection by parents and all others interested in the work of the school pupils. The school rooms are filled with exhibits from the industrial or manual arts class and the home economics or domestic science class of the high school. The exhibit shows something of the work that is being accomplished in the higher grades in these two practical courses.

MERCY HOSPITAL BOOSTERS HOLD AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

The spacious Winter Garden bazaar proved adequate to accommodate the large crowd of New Mercy Hospital Boosters, representing the congregations of Holy Redeemer and St. Mary's churches, Wednesday evening. Like all meetings in connection with the campaign to raise $200,000 for the erection of the hospital and a Training School for Nurses, the meeting was chock full of enthusiasm, and not a moment was wasted.

Postmaster Vallee Harold presided as chairman of the meeting, and from his first word until the last speaker had concluded, everyone was kept in perfect attitude of the spirit of the occasion. Mr. Harold has the happy faculty of knowing what to say and expressing himself accordingly. He was very gracious in his introduction of the speakers and was light hearted and free while presiding—making the meeting snappy and not allowing anything to creep in that could in any way mar the object of the meeting. It was a boosters' meeting in spirit as well as fact. Every speaker boosted the object—all were sincere and the hearty applause that accompanied the short talks spoke volumes for the success of the campaign that will soon be on in earnest—a campaign that will without question be a success from start to finish.

Mr. Harold made a short impromptu talk of five minutes, during which time he took occasion to pay tribute to the accomplishments of Portsmouth people. He said: "I am especially glad to be here this evening, for we are to discuss a subject that is very near to my heart. My whole heart and soul are enlisted in the building of a new Mercy Hospital. I am enthused, because I am not working for an individual but for the entire citizenship of the community. We are going to build a hospital for the benefit of humanity. You are not going to give as a Catholic or as a Protestant, but as an American citizen. Give not with a reluctant hand—give as we did during the great World War—until it hurts. Charity is the greatest of all blessings—like the dew from heaven it descends upon all, and blesses all. I know that the parishes of Holy Redeemer and St. Mary's will do as they always have done—bring forth in large abundance that the new hospital may be erected—an institution that will bless this community and its people and stand as a monument to the great humanitarian heart of Portsmouth."

Edward T. Reed, Mr. Harold, in his introduction of Mr. Reed, general chairman of the campaign, spoke of the gentleman as one of the best citizens Portsmouth had yet produced. While not claiming any gifts as a public speaker, Mr. Reed's talk was to the point and he understood his audience. He said in part: "There are several reasons why this campaign should be a success. First, Portsmouth is woefully short in hospital facilities. This statement is based on an exhaustive report as made by the Chamber of Commerce some time ago after a thorough research. Should the new Mercy Hospital be erected and should the addition to Hempstead be built, and with the beds at Dr. Schirman's hospital, we would still be shy 25 to 40 beds. I am glad that the new hospital is to be conducted by the Sisters of St. Francis. Any hospital they run will be well run. They will conduct the hospital in a manner of which we may all be proud.

"But these two reasons are not the main reasons why I favor the erection of the hospital. I am not working for the Sisters of St. Francis, nor any set of physicians as against any other set of doctors—I am in this fight because of the sick and unfortunate. I am interested because with the erection of the hospital we will be able to render service—we are in a work of mercy. The campaign is bound to succeed, because its preliminary work has been done by experts and because more than 100 men who have done things in a big way for Portsmouth are to participate in the solicitation of the necessary funds."

Dr. S. D. Ruggles, Dr. S. D. Ruggles was the next speaker. He said: "It has been my privilege to visit many of the leading hospitals in America and Europe, and I have never seen a hospital conducted by the Sisters of St. Francis that was not a success and model institution. There are two kinds of people, those who are too far ahead, and those who are too far behind. There are three kinds of hospitals—the kind that is open to everybody; another that has a closed staff of physicians, where the staff physicians join in consultation with the patient's physician—and another class that is absolutely closed to all. Fortunately, Mercy Hospital will represent the second class—the middle class. If you please, in other words, the Sisters of St. Francis will insist upon a consultation for safety of the patient as well as the reputation of the hospital. It is not unusual for a patient to die under the administration of an anæsthetic. A diagnosis must be made previous to an operation: that the Sisters may be satisfied that every safeguard has been thrown around the patient. All this is being done at Mercy Hospital—an institution that is not being conducted for profit, but because of the service it may render.

Father T. A. Goebel, Father Goebel of St. Mary's parish spoke briefly, but to the point. He said: "I am heartily in favor of the campaign that is now begun. We have an expert campaign manager—we must all put our shoulders under the load and do all that we can to make the drive a complete and glorious success. Portsmouth is deserving of a large and first class hospital. It will be a great institution—one to which we can all point with pride and say that we contributed to one of the most beneficent institutions in this community. It will be worth all you give to say that you had a part in the erection of the hospital, for its blessings may be world wide—certainly a blessing to this splendid community."

Father J. E. McGuirk, Father McGuirk, who has presided over the parish of Holy Redeemer church for 10, in these many years, said: "This is the proudest moment of my thirty-three years as a citizen of Portsmouth. As far as I am concerned, I can only add my earnest endorsement of every word uttered here this evening. The people of St. Mary's and Holy Redeemer, I am sure, will stand square behind the efforts of General Chairman Reed in helping to make this campaign a wonderful success. Heartily endorse the proposition. I am in the campaign with all my heart and as far as my financial means will allow me to go."

Benj. Crahan, The last speaker of the evening was Benj. Crahan, manager of the Portsmouth Gas Company. Mr. Crahan is a most fluent speaker, and while his talk was short, he captivated his hearers by his eloquence. He stated that this campaign was being conducted by Americans for Americans, and the great heart of Americans in Portsmouth had never been appealed to in vain. You can measure a man by the length and shadow of his life and you can best measure the sympathy and love and devotion of the good people of Portsmouth by the length and shadow that will be cast by the new Mercy Hospital. I am for the proposition because it represents a step forward in the task to alleviate the suffering ills of humanity."

Mr. Harold adjourned the meeting right on the second dot—a meeting that will never be looked upon as one of the high spots in the new Mercy Hospital campaign.

The next move in the drive will be a meeting for team captains and their workers to be held at the United Brethren church on Friday evening of this week, May 19, promptly at six o'clock. When it becomes known that the ladies of the church will provide a fish dinner, it is quite probable that every citizen and every worker will see to it that he is there on time. The meeting will last but one hour.

NEW MERCY HOSPITAL

The above will give one a good idea as to how the New Mercy Hospital and Training School for Nurses will look when completed. The new $200,000 campaign will not erect the building in its entirety, but as soon as this sum is raised the Sisters of St. Francis, who will conduct the institution will immediately take steps to borrow at least that much more, which will give Portsmouth a half-million dollar hospital, one of the largest and most complete between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

Lucasville Commencement Tonight

A class of nine graduates from the Valley Township high school at Lucasville will receive their coveted diplomas when the commencement exercises are held this evening in the Lucasville Community hall.

The speaker is Prof. George McCracken of the Department of Education, Ohio State University. The diplomas will be presented by Prof.

H. H. Druhot, superintendent of the Lucasville school. The number of candidates in this year's class is the same as last year. The graduates who have completed their school work at Lucasville are Nora Brand, Ruth Carter, Valley Davis, Elva Fullmer, Lovenna Kimbler, Alta Mumford, Arthur Moulton, Isabel Morgan and Joseph Wood-dell.

LUCASVILLE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HELD SPLENDID MEETING LAST NIGHT

Many of the city's prominent business and professional men journeyed back to the scenes of their school days and mingled with classmates of former years, in the reunion of the alumni and former students of Lucasville high school in that village last night. Members of the class of 1922, which will receive its diplomas this evening, together with the faculty of the school, were guests of the former students last night at a banquet and entertainment that will not soon be forgotten by the more than 150 who took part in the evening's pleasures.

The meeting of the Lucasville Alumni Association opened in the Community Building, where a short session was held. Clinton Spriggs was re-elected president and Miss Nellie Yeager was re-elected secretary of the Association. The annual dues were fixed at fifty cents per year.

After the business was completed, Prof. Frank Appel, rector of the desk for order, and the scenes that took place in the school rooms of the youth were again enacted, with much merriment for all. The members and their guests then adjourned to the Masonic Hall where the ladies of the Methodist church served brick ice cream, strawberries, angel and devil's food cakes and coffee.

E. C. Hood acted as toastmaster and the refreshments were served, and called on Attorney Mark Crawford for the opening talk. While Mr. Crawford was speaking for a humorous talk, he spoke mostly of the difficulties that are encountered in life after the young man and woman leaves school, and his words expressed the spirit of the Association which was founded to keep the students of the school together, and to build up bonds of helpfulness. Attorney Mark Crawford and Edgar Miller each had a few words when called upon. J. H. Finney set the crowd laughing with his "My Pupils Were All Angels" and the mirth continued when Prof. Frank Appel spoke on his mysterious subject, "The Haul of Is."

Prof. H. H. Druhot, of the Lucasville schools, made a short talk on character analysis which proved of interest to the members.

A telegram was read, which expressed the regrets of Branch Kieck, the Association's best known member, stating that he, his wife and her sister Mabel Moulton, would enjoy being at the meeting and would attend were it possible. Mr. Hood followed the reading of the message with the announcement that the Cardinals trimmed Brooklyn 11-0, which was greeted by applause by the members, all of whom want to see St. Louis finish on top.

They laughed then, as you doubt now. But things were different before the big earthquake, which I predicted, shook the foundations of the great western metropolis. I was only a youth and both because of my age and my mother's belief my revelations were suppressed. As long as she lived, in deference to her wishes, I didn't encourage the things I felt within me. It has only been during the past twelve years since my mother's death, that I have become deeply absorbed in the study of the mystic and the science of the east.

Kara turned again to the crystal. A smile spread across the face of the "man who knows." You can inform the farmers of this community that the price of corn is going to take a jump this spring. It is uncertain though, just how long the advanced price will continue. It will be well if the farmers benefit from their experience last year and do not hold their grain until it is too late." Kara prognosticated.

From the price of grain Kara turned his prophetic attention to the question of prohibition.

"Prohibition is not going to be a success in Ohio, and national prohibition hasn't such a bright future before it. Prohibition will prove to be all right in some sections of the country."

Claim Remus, Being Tried Second Time Upon Same Charge

CINCINNATI, O., May 18.—(By the Associated Press).—Government attorneys and counsel for the defense in the second trial of the whiskey conspiracy cases appeared before United States District Judge J. W. Peck today before presentation of evidence to decide upon the method of procedure to be followed at the trial. The defense insists that George Remus, former Chicago attorney, and Elmer Roth and Harry L. Gardewing, who were convicted at the first trial, are being tried a second time upon the same charges. Judge Peck held that he could not make a decision on that point until he heard the evidence in the new case.

The charge in the present case is that Remus, Roth Gardewing and Fred Kancher, Sr., conspired to secure possession of the Fleischmann distillery in this city and to transport the liquor from that plant without legal permit.

This is No. 2. of a series of Rinso endorsements from the leading washing machine manufacturers of this country

The Coffield Washer Co.
Dayton, Ohio

Lever Brothers Company,
Cambridge, Mass.

Gentlemen: After testing various soaps we are advising our agents to use Rinso in demonstrating the Coffield.

The most important question for the prospective buyer is "Are the clothes washed clean?" The loads washed with Rinso were so clean that they did not have to be touched again. With some soaps the machine had to be operated a much longer time to get the best results.

When water is evenly impregnated with pure soap solution a washing machine can do its best work. This is only possible with a soap that dissolves completely as Rinso does.

Tried out over a period equivalent to seven years' weekly use Rinso did not corrode or injure the machine in any way. It can be used with absolute safety. Garments were not weakened by prolonged washings with Rinso.

Very truly yours,
THE COFFIELD WASHER COMPANY

J. H. Coffield
President

Makers of the noted Coffield Washer advise their demonstrators to use Rinso

WASHING machine manufacturers realize that the reputation of their washers can be injured by using the wrong soap.

After making exhaustive tests the makers of the Coffield and the other leading washing machine manufacturers of the country are recommending Rinso for the family wash.

Rinso has more cleansing power than is possible in bar soap. This is why it is taking the place of bar soap at every step of the family wash.

When you put your clothes to soak Dissolve Rinso in boiling water—use enough to get big lasting suds. Then, let your clothes soak an hour or more—overnight if you like—(colored clothes only half an hour). Soaking in big lukewarm Rinso suds softens the dirt.

In any washing machine Use enough Rinso solution to make a heavy suds. Operate your machine from 10 to 15 minutes. Rinso is the ideal soap for machine washing.

If you boil Boiling isn't necessary, but if you like to boil your white cottons, pour enough Rinso solution in the boiler to give you the suds you like.

Rinso is made by the largest soap makers in the world. It comes in the regular size and the big new package. Get it today at grocery and department stores everywhere. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

HOW EVER YOUR WASHING IS DONE: The same qualities that make Rinso an ideal soap for a washing machine make it the best soap you can use however you do the family wash.

Up To Mother To Keep The Baby's Milk Pure

CERTIFIED MILK HELPS A BABY TO HOLD HIS SPINE UPRIGHT

BY MRS. MAX WEST
late of the United States Children's Bureau

SOME wise person once remarked that the most important thing that goes into the baby's bottle is the good sense of the mother.

The milk may be of the purest when it leaves the dairy, but if it stands on a sunny doorstep for an hour or two, or waits in a hot kitchen while the mother goes to market, or is left in an open dish for flies to fall into, it will not be fit to give the baby.

Milk is an extremely delicate article and is the favorite food of certain little cells that are capable of making great troubles for the baby, once they get inside him. They love heat, and a mild temperature and when they find it, they grow and multiply with amazing rapidity.

On the other hand, they are greatly discouraged either by cold or heat. Therefore, the first law of the care of the milk should be "keep it very cold." It should be chilled before it leaves the dairy. Then it should be kept chilled until it is delivered at the house.

After that the mother must play her part. The milk should be taken in the moment it is delivered, and put at once on ice. If there is no ice, it should be put in running water, or under folds of cheesecloth, the ends of which are in a pan of water which stands in an open window.

Every mother who has to do with out ice in summer should have an iceless refrigerator. These are readily made at home if some one is clever with a hammer and a saw, and they cost so little that certainly at least every family in which there is a baby should have one.

Properly made and used, this convenience will keep milk quite cold enough for safety, even in very hot weather, and will save a world of anxiety about sour or bad milk. Write to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for directions for making.

Failing any of these, the milk should be boiled. This is always the counsel of prudence in the hottest weather. The baby is not likely to suffer from any possible bad effect of boiled milk for a few days, and will probably be much better off, than he will be if fed upon contaminated milk of any sort. In still other cases, it may be best to resort to dried milk. If the quality of the fresh supply available is dubious, dried milk, under various trade names, may be had in drug stores.

(Tomorrow: The second summer.)

Accidentally Shot; Arm Amputated

Special to the Times

HAMDEN, O., May 18.—Dan Kizer who lives at Roads, six miles south of this place, will be maimed for life the result of an accident he met with yesterday while hunting ground squirrels.

His arm was so badly mutilated that amputation above the elbow was necessary. Kizer suffered greatly from loss of blood and his condition is serious.

Catlettsburg Pastor Called By Local Church

At a congregational meeting of the Central Presbyterian church last night a call was extended to Rev. G. M. Howerton, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Catlettsburg, to become pastor of the local church. The congregation was very enthusiastic over the possibility of securing a minister so soon after the departure of Rev. R. B. Cartwright, who is now located at Alden, N. Y. Rev. Howerton was here last Sunday and delivered a series of sermons that met with the hearty approval of the congregation. Prior to that the pulpit committee had visited the Catlettsburg church and heard Rev. Howerton and were favorably impressed.

To show that they meant business the congregation decided to increase the salary of the new minister, who ever it is to be, to $2,000 per year, an increase of $900 over the salary previously paid. They all got busy during the meeting and within a short time close to $750 was subscribed to pay for a Ford sedan for the new minister. In order to present the call in person to Rev. Howerton, J. Adam Burkel and H. B. Murray, representing the church and congregation, went to Catlettsburg today to see Rev. Howerton and to inform him of the action taken by the Central church last night.

Rev. Howerton has been pastor of the Catlettsburg church for six years and has made a good record there. Should Rev. Howerton accept the call to the local church the Portsmouth Presbytery will take action to have him come here as pastor.

At last night's meeting, held as part of the mid-week prayer services, Rev. Hugh I. Evans presided as moderator and H. B. Murray was secretary.

Denies Complicity In Covington Hold-Up COVINGTON, KY., May 18.—Charles "Bud" Davis, of Ludlow, was released on $20,000 bonds following his surrender last night to Covington police after he learned that a warrant had been issued charging him with complicity in the hold-up of a bank messenger on a street car here. Needed at Dances And the Sea Shore

(Aids to Beauty)

Here is a home treatment for removing hair that is quick, painless and inexpensive: With some powdered salicylic acid and water make enough paste to thickly cover the objectionable hairs, apply and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left soft, clear and hairless. This treatment will not mar the skin, but to avoid disappointment, be careful to get real salicylic acid, not the cheap stuff. Advertisement.

Rich Costumes Worn In

Siamese Temple Dancers in Picture

"Fool's Paradise"

A MILLION stitches for twelve costumes! That's what it took to make the gorgeously jeweled costumes of the Siamese dancing girls in one episode of Cecil B. DeMille's latest Paramount picture, "Fool's Paradise," which will be shown at the Columbia theatre for four days, beginning Monday next.

These costumes, perhaps the most ornately beautiful ever designed for the screen, were created by Claire West, special costume designer, for Cecil B. DeMille productions. The twelve dancers appear in reproductions of the famous Temple Dances. The weight of their costumes is considerable as each garment is decorated with at least two thousand set jewels: sapphires, emeralds, rubies and diamonds. Counting fifty stitches to each jewel, 100,000 to the garment, it can be seen that the original estimate of one million stitches for the twelve costumes is conservative.

COULD HARDLY STAND AT TIMES

Hips, Back and Legs would Have That Tired Ache

Everett, Washington.—"For several years I have had trouble with the lowest part of my back and my hips and my legs would ache with that tired ache. I could hardly stand on my feet at times. I was always able to do my work although I did not feel good. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and having heard several praise it I decided to try it. I feel first-rate at the present time. It has done wonders for me and I keep it in the house right along. I always recommend it to others who are sick and ailing."—Mrs. J. M. SUBERT, 4032 High St., Everett, Washington.

To do any kind of work, or to play for that matter, is next to impossible if you are suffering from some form of female trouble. It may cause your back or your legs to ache, it may make you nervous and irritable. You may be able to keep up and around, but you do not feel good.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women. It is especially adapted to relieve the cause of the trouble and then those annoying pains, aches and "no good" feelings disappear.

Final Fight On Hospital Bond Issue Is Postponed

Measure Not Brought Up At Meeting Of The Council; Resurfacing Of Streets Is Given A Whirl

The hospital bond ordinance, the debate on which precipitated such a stirring fight on the floor of City Council at the special session Monday night, did not come up for consideration in any form at the regular meeting of that body Wednesday night and while considerable business of importance was transacted last night nothing occurred to mar the routine.

Backers of the hospital bond issue have indicated that the measure will be resurrected at the first meeting in June, three weeks hence, at which time they hope to submit plans and specifications for the proposed addition which they are certain will meet all the requirements of the law as well as the demands of City Auditor Chandler who held up the passage of the ordinance by refusing to sign the certificate because the tentative plans failed to disclose the character of the proposed building, especially in respect to the material to be used in its construction, so as to enlighten him fully on the probable life of the improvement.

In the meantime opponents of the plan are laying back on their oars knowing that it is up to the other side to make the next move and by the time the measure comes up again for consideration the insurgents may discover some other point of attack in an effort to block its passage.

President Albert Westphal presided over the session last night and the full membership was present except James Bauer, and much business was crowded into the two hours which the meeting consumed.

The annual tax budget for municipal purposes for the year 1923 was passed. The budget carries with it a total of $355,376.78 which is about the same as the revenue derived from taxes last year with the park estimate, which is a new fund, and a slight increase in the health fund estimate. The estimates for the various funds are listed below:

- General Fund $24,906.
- Public Health $11,750.
- Public Safety $75,000.
- Public Service $80,000.
- Hospital $15,000.
- Library $62,957.78.
- Interest and Sinking Fund $135,115.
- Policemen's Pension $406.
- Firemen's Pension $4,340.
- Park Fund $3,000.

Resolutions were adopted approving to proceed with the improvement of Second, Gallia and Eleventh streets by resurfacing or repaving the thoroughfares and in the discussion it was explained that the city's share of the total cost will be one-half. Chairman Westphal stated that it was the sense of the street committee, which had gone over the situation thoroughly, that bids be asked on several forms of resurfacing in order to get as wide a field as possible for competitive bidding and that the work would be let to the lowest and best bidder by the board of control. In awarding the contracts he said that the board would recognize the wishes of the property owners in the selection of the material to be used.

Resolutions were also adopted to proceed with the improvement of Jackson street. Officers to Campbell; the "J" formed by Dewey avenue and Sixteenth streets and an alley between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, Office to Hutchins.

The sum of $10,000 was appropriated to pay the Chicago firm of sanitary engineers for making complete working plans for the new sanitary sewer system and $150 was voted for the building repair fund of the fire department and $100 to the service department to pay for lime.

Gas Tanks Under Streets
Solicitor Johnson suggested that some action should be taken about the installation of gas tanks under the sidewalks and placing filling pumps at curbs, the same being authorized by council and were hazardous. He stated that he did not know of any ordinance covering the proposition, whereupon on motion of Councilman Westphal, the matter was referred to the Police, Fire and Market committee and the City Solicitor with directions to prepare an ordinance covering the matter.

Service Department Report.
City Engineer Wilhelm made a report for the Service Department. Request from property owners for a sewer at an alley between Lawson and Monroe streets south of Gallia was received and filed.

The matter of grading and widening Seventeenth street on the extension of same which the engineer estimated would cost $500 to $700, on motion of Judge Osborn, seconded by Mr. Diener, the Service Director, with the approval of the City Solicitor, was ordered to contract and have the work done.

The engineer reported the Twenty-First street sewer overtaxed by heavy rains and outlined a plan of relief that would cost $300. Referred to the street committee.

Safety Signal

The matter of installing a safety signal at the Fourteenth street crossing of the N. & W. was brought up, the company stating that it was ready to install same. The company was given permission which it was held it already had as it was on its own land and the laws of the state required it. But the company

Miss Cramer Explains Where She Obtained Figures On City Finances

Councilwoman Miss Emma Cramer, at the regular session of City Council Wednesday night replied to Mayor Gahleman's statement made through the local newspapers questioning parts of her report made at the special meeting Monday evening in connection with the hospital proposition and particularly in connection with the bonded indebtedness and the probability that bonds would have to be refunded.

Miss Cramer in her opening remarks was careful to say that the source of her information that bonds would probably have to be refunded came from a member of the Sinking Fund Commission. She stated that she was searching for figures so as to inform herself on the condition of city finances and she quoted the Sinking Fund Commissioner, whose name she failed to reveal, as saying that "Providing the city did not lose the waterworks' suit the city would probably not have to refund bonds for 1922, but would have to refund bonds for 1923," and she cited that he further declared that, "We are refunding bonds now that were issued as a bonus to purchase the site for the Norfolk and Western Terminals."

As to the bonded indebtedness of the city of Portsmouth, April 1, Miss Cramer stated that the information came from Earl Chandler, city auditor, and at the time he gave the figures City Solicitor Sherard Johnson was present. The figures furnished me by the City Auditor, as printed in my report published in the newspapers of Tuesday, show that the city of Portsmouth has a bonded indebtedness of $904,000 subject to the 2 and 1-2 percent limitation.

Miss Cramer says that she was seeking information so as to fit herself to represent her constituents in the council, she "was gathering these figures to use in the hospital matter as she thought the people should know of the financial condition of the city before being asked to appropriate or vote more bonds." She told the Daily Times that "her heart was in favor of the hospital but her first duty was to the city at this time, according to the figures of the City Auditor, and the statements of a Sinking Fund Commissioner, was not able to make the improvement, and at any rate should not do so until the people who pay the taxes have opportunity to vote on such a proposition."

now has council's consent and was urged to proceed with the installation.

Engineer Wilhelm submitted estimates totaling $378 to improve drainage condition at Sciotoville and the necessary legislation to provide the funds for paying the cost of the work was ordered.

An ordinance was passed authorizing the construction of the Briggs avenue sewer.

A petition was received, signed by Clark Wilson and 85 other citizens of North Moreland Addition asking for four more lights and for "proper drainage of that suburb. Councilman Westphal said that the improvement was badly needed. It developed that the addition had four lights coming to it under an old ordinance and the matter was referred to the light committee and Service Director and the drainage matter was turned over to the street committee and Solicitor.

Miscellaneous

Under the head of miscellaneous quite a number of subjects were discussed.

Mrs. A. R. Dameron of Gallia street reported that there was a cellar filled with stagnant water near her residence and there was fear of typhoid fever. Referred to the plumbing inspector for action.

The garbage question which has had to take a sidetrack until the hospital bond issue could be thoroughly discussed, bubbled up again, being opened by Mrs. Dameron, followed by Councilman Osborn and Westphal, Service Director Gergens, Fire Chief Leedom and probably others with the conclusion that it was a difficult thing to handle and that it could be disposed of far better if the people would all have cans and properly deposit their garbage. Mr. Diener suggested a larger force during the summer months and Mr. Westphal came back and said they would be put on if council could find and vote the money to do it. Fire Chief Leedom spoke of the hazard of fire from the reckless way that waste material is disposed of, or rather not disposed of, by many people. Service Director Gergens asked the newspapers to list in the premises by urging the people to purchase cans and use them and they would soon note that the garbage man would do the rest.

Councilman Kountz brought up the matter of water standing on Gallia and Mabey Road on a lot of the N. & W. Railway Company, and he stated that citizens wanted relief from the foul place. Mr. Westphal took it upon himself to take the matter up with the company.

Mr. Kountz also brought up the matter of drainage of an alley on Highland Avenue from Franklin to North streets. He stated that if the city would furnish material a resident would repair catch basin. Referred to the Service Department and City Engineer.

Truck Traffic

The heavy truck traffic on streets not having concrete base was brought before council and the question of routing such trucks over streets able to stand the loads was discussed, resulting in the ordinance committee and solicitor being directed to bring forth an ordinance regulating and routing such traffic. It came to light that trucks bearing more than a ten ton load were using sand filled streets and tearing them up. Companies have promised to reduce the loads, according to the Service Director, but he thought in some instances the promises were not being kept.

The dropping of gravel and sand on the streets from loaded wagons was also considered and complaint was made by Councilman Diener that the Safety Department was not reporting the same and the Service Department was not cleaning the stuff up as rapidly as he thought it should. The council thought that the alleged promise of the sand tipple operators to oil the road between the paving and their tipple should be kept and the road oiled for the protection of citizens of that section of the city. Safety Director Straus stated that the gravel and sand men had promised not to load their wagons so heavily as to permit the contents to slip off on the streets.

Communication

A communication was received asking that a bill for the construction of a wall at an excavation made on Keogon Avenue some five years ago and built by the late Henry Haynes be paid. The matter was referred to the committee on law and claims.

A communication was received signed by Raymond D. Violet and 17 other property owners requesting the improvement of Spring street. Referred to the Service Director for action.

AN APOLOGY

The Police Have Forced Us To Abandon Our Crocodile Demonstration!

To The Good People of Portsmouth:

When we startled you with the unusual announcement that we would pay any man $1,000.00 for every minute that he would keep his head in the jaws of our CROCODILES, we were sincere. We had planned to present this demonstration on a platform erected in front of the Columbia theatre Monday evening. We thought, that when we stated we would not accept any person with any dependents of any sort, that we were setting all the necessary limitations on this event.

BUT—your good Commissioner of Public Safety has stepped in. He has shown us that in allowing a man to step within ten feet of a crocodile's jaws, we were laying ourselves liable of MURDER! He has shown us that the danger to life and limb is far too great to the individual who attempts such a feat. He has explained that, should these vicious animals, the most blood-thirsty of all flesh-devouring reptiles, break loose from their shackles, the whole city would be thrown into a turmoil. Be that as it may! At any rate, it is not our intention to interfere with law and order! So we withdraw.

BUT—we did want to give you an idea of what crocodiles ate, what mean looking beasts they can prove to be, and WHAT DARING, INHUMAN COURAGE, SHEER BRAVADO and FEARLESS HEROISM Conrad Nagle and John Davidson displayed when they entered the loathsome crocodilepit, swarming with SCORES of THESE REPTILES, to stage a moving picture scene—and suddenly found themselves in the most bitter, eye-opening, amazingly thrilling battle-for-life ever shown in any picture anywhere!

You will gasp! You'll sigh! Your hair will stand on end as you watch these men fight with the savage monsters—in REAL! But for a miracle, this picture might never have been shown. A streak of fate saved them both and at the same time made possible the completion of the most lavish, hair-raising, heart-pumping, nerve-vibrating screen sensation ever filmed. You will see it all in "FOOL'S PARADISE," Cecil B. De-Mille's greatest Paramount masterpiece, which comes to the COLUMBIA THEATRE for a four-day engagement starting NEXT MONDAY, MAY 22.

Fleischmann's fresh yeast helps digestion and cleans a coated tongue

THOUSANDS of men and women have found relief from various digestive disturbances by eating Fleischmann's Yeast.

It is human nature to want to find out "why." So far as science can tell us this is the reason:

Fleischmann's Yeast is a food abundant in certain elements which are necessary to health and life itself. It promotes the flow of bile and of pancreatic juice. It has a remarkably beneficial effect on the whole digestive system. It cleans a coated tongue.

Try Fleischmann's fresh yeast in orange juice or, if you prefer, in milk. Men like it in milk shakes and malted milks. Women like it spread on bread or crackers.

Keep your digestion in the pink of condition and your tongue clean and healthy by eating 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast fresh every day before or between meals. Get Fleischmann's Yeast fresh daily from your grocer.

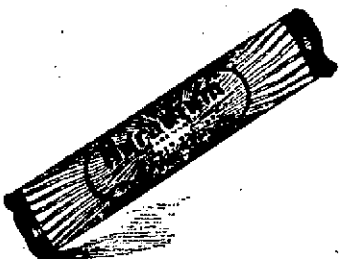

The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast is sold

Radium to Revitalize to Conquer Disease

Remarkable Results Reported From Radium in Energizing the System and Driving Out Disease Where Other Methods Had Utterly Failed.

A great many prominent people have been testing Radium, the small tablets of radium rays caught in sugar of milk. The reports border upon the miraculous. These small tablets are taken at intervals through the day and not being a drug they have none of the drug effects of stimulants. But soon there is a conscious sense of elevation. With some it is a slight degree of exhilaration. There seems to have entered into the system a gentle force, a new and pleasant form of stimulus entirely different from the force of any excitement caused by drugs, medicine or alcohol. Pain ceases and stops. Nervous sensations are quieted. Rapid pulse becomes more normal. Appetite is improved. As the effect continues it reaches throughout the system, accumulations of body wastes are broken up and eliminated by stimulated nature, the blood count of red corpuscles is greatly increased, hardening of arteries is prevented, old age is halted and invalidism becomes but a memory. There is every reason to expect that whether it be rheumatism, nervous exhaustion, muscular weakness, constipation and its effect upon the system or any of the typical diseases that distress most people, the use of Radium for a few weeks will create such a remarkable change as to practically revitalize the system and put it back to its youthful days of bounding energy. It is worth a trial. It may prove to be a greater factor in conquering disease than we dare to suggest. It is called Radium.

Be sure to ask for Radium in the round package, was sealed at end. It is the only one containing the radium rays caught in sugar of milk. It is sold by the following druggists at $2.50 per vial of 20 tablets.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Youth, beauty, social position, and sincere love—these were not sufficient to hold the affection of BELLAMY DUCE, cursed with an appetite for cheap filtrations and expensive liquor. The decision to leave him came when she visits the New York studio of Alton Daley and takes a great interest in the screen life. Then comes her break with Bellamy and a sudden departure to Chicago where she is visited by her lawyer.

HAROLD WILLIS. Lucinda refuses to return to her husband.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of needless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid, are removed from the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of nursing him, his wife let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allen's with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery, all druggists will kindly return your money without comment. — Advertisement.

Willis blinked, removed the gold-rimmed pince-nez of his fading day, and polished the lenses with a silk handkerchief.

"And now," he pursued—"if you don't mind satisfying an inquisitive old man—I would very much like to know what you propose to do with your freedom, when you get it."

Lucinda jumped up and turned away with a quiver of desolation.

"Ah, I wish you hadn't asked me. That's what I'm trying all the time to forget."

"I thought so."

"The emphasis is on 'forget'."

What can a woman do to round out her life when she's lost her husband and is fit for nothing but to be a wife?

"She can find another husband. Many do."

"Marry again?" A violent movement of Lucinda's hands abolished the thought. "Never! That! I'm through with love for good and all."

"No doubt," agreed the student of law and life. "But are you sure that love is through with you?"

WILLIS left for New York on a late afternoon train; and when Lucinda had said goodbye to him at the station, she felt as if she had parted with her one real friend in all the world.

She applied for transportation and a drawing-room through to Reno but learned that the winter stampede of California tourists was in full westward swing. The best the agent could do was to book Lucinda through to San Francisco with her section to herself on the California Limited leaving the next night, arranging for her to return from San Francisco to Reno, a trip of some eleven hours.

Returning to the hotel about five, she was approaching the elevators when, midway in the foyer, she stopped stock still, transfixed by the sight of Bellamy standing at the registry desk, in earnest consultation with one of the clerks.

Apparently Bellamy had just learned what he wanted to know; Lucinda recognized the backward jerk of the head that was an unfailing sign of gratification in him, and saw him turn away from the desk, galvanized she hurried herself toward the elevator shafts, the gate to which was even then being closed.

When she entered her room the telephone was calling. She looked the door; and for as long as it continued to ring, which it did for upwards of five minutes. At length she gave it up as a bad job, and she sank limply into a chair near the door, till a knock brought her to her feet in a flutter.

"Your bill, ma'am."

When she forced herself to turn key and knob, she more than half expected to see her husband. But the bellboy was alone. Lucinda took the bill and counted out the money.

"Take those bags, please," she said, indicating the new dressing case and the bag which she had brought from New York, "put them in a taxi at the door, and hold it till I come down."

Running out into the hall, she found the stairs and potted up two flights. One of the elevators was rising. It stopped two floors below, then came on up in response to her ring.

"Did you let somebody out at my floor?"

"Yes, ma'am, a gentleman."

"Take me down, please, without stopping."

The car dropped with sickening rapidity, and she stepped out into the foyer in consternation when Bellamy placed himself before her, blocking her way to the street.

Her heart checked and raced, she was oddly at once agitated and elated. Simultaneously she had wanted to see Bellamy face to face, to see how he looked, how her flight had affected him.

Through he seemed to be quite himself, his face looked thinner, his eyes a trifle more deeply set in his head; and there was a new firmness in the set of his mouth.

In this new guise, the old appeal was strong. For a space of several hours her heart misgave her.

In a matter-of-course way Bellamy offered a hand, and Lucinda touched it mechanically.

"Sorry, Linda, if I disappointed you, but though I recognized your handbag being carried to the door, and waited for this car to come down on the off-chance...."

"I see," she articulated with an effort.

"You can give me a few minutes, surely."

"Bell! I tell you it's too late!"

Struggling to keep his temper, Bell caught his underlip between his teeth, while Lucinda cast wistfully about for some way to escape. None offered. But she noticed that a young man standing nearby was observing them with keen interest, a rather brilliantly good-looking young man, brilliantly well-dressed. As Lucinda's glance rested transiently on him, his face brightened with a tentative smile, and she thought he started as if he were impulsively moved to approach. If so, he reconsidered instantly. With a frown she looked back to Bell.

He made a gesture of entreaty. "You can't put me off like this, Linda, when I've come so far, gone through so much."

"I can because I must, Bell—I will."

"No, by God; you can't and shan't!"

He caught her arm lightly as she tried to pass. She stopped, her face flushing.

"Are you going to make another scene, publicly disgrace me again even when sober?"

His hand dropped to his side, Lucinda began to walk rapidly toward the street entrance, but had taken few steps when Bellamy ranged alongside.

"Linda: you've got to listen to me! There's something I've got to tell you—"

"I mean to go to Reno, as soon as you let me pass."

Bellamy's eyes narrowed as if in physical pain. He threw out a hand of inarticulate protest, and let it fall in despair. Subduing a strong desire to bolt for it, Lucinda began to descend at a pace not inconsistent with dignity. At the same time feeling that they had been playing a scene of intimate domestic drama for the edification of an entire hotel, made her aware that the young man whose interest had first manifested near the elevators had followed across the foyer and was now standing at the head of the steps, over-arms from Bellamy.

Pushing through the door, she leashed blankly the stinging winter air. The canopy lamps made the sidewalk bright, and she discovered her belated shivering by the open door of a taxicab.

Abandoning all pretence, Lucinda ran. The bellboy caught her arm to help her into the cab and chattered: "Where to—to, m'm?" She was prevented from answering by Bell, who elbowed the boy aside and caught her by the shoulders.

"No," he cried violently. "No, you shan't—don't hear—you shan't go without listening to me!"

By some means she did not know quite how, Lucinda broke out of his hands and stepped back.

"Let me alone," she insisted. "Let me—"

STEWART'S CUT RATE Great Refund Offer

To Portsmouth People Who Are Weak, Sickly, Nervous Or Run-Down

IMPORTANT NOTICE:—by special arrangement, we can now extend to any person in Portsmouth who wants more strength, energy and endurance, the opportunity of using Nuxated Iron so that if you do not get all and even greater benefits than you expect, it will not cost you one cent, because we ourselves will promptly return your money.

You may wonder how we can afford to do this. The answer is that week after week a large number of Portsmouth people come into our store for Nuxated Iron, throughout the country over four million people use it annually. Blood examinations by physicians all over the country show that an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. Without iron the vital organs that people often believe they have heart or stomach trouble, kidney diseases, nerve force exhaustion or some other serious ailment. They have pains and palpitation of the heart, sudden dizziness, faintness of spots before the eyes, when as a matter of fact the trouble is all due to lack of iron in the blood, and when iron is supplied, all of these symptoms disappear.

Genuine Nuxated Iron contains true organic iron like the iron in your blood. So many people are deficient in iron who would surely be benefited by this remarkable remedy that we recommend that you come right to Stewart's for the Rate and get a bottle of Nuxated Iron, use it for two weeks and note the improvement in your own case. You are the judge—if you do not get all and even greater benefits than you expect, just bring back the wrapper and we will promptly refund the full amount you paid. — Advertisement.

When Mr. Straus saw Warden at the Carnival in the North End he asked him what he was doing. With his badge on display while in civilian clothes.

"It's my badge and I can wear it any time and any place," Warden replied.

Mr. Straus walked away and proceeded to take in the sights of the Carnival.

Just before he left the grounds he saw Warden walked up to him and said: "Here is your old badge. You can have it."

Mr. Straus says he placed it in his pocket and right then suspended Warden.

"He was a splendid fireman, but I will not stand for firemen getting in the condition in which I saw Warden at the Carnival. It was his second suspension and this time it sticks," Mr. Straus said Thursday.

Conditions Of Forgiving Sins

Catholics believe that they cannot receive pardon of sins unless they are sorry for them; confess them to God's representative, the priest; and are willing to make full reparation for the injury done to a neighbor's property or good name. Catholics never pay money for the pardoning of sins. They never get permission to commit sin in the future. One must examine his conscience to find out the number and kinds of his sins. He must regret them from his heart because he has offended God. He must make a humble, sincere and entire confession to a priest. He must be willing to make full satisfaction for the harm his sins have caused.

HOW MERCY HOSPITAL IS RUN.

There have been many loose and unauthorized statements and, possibly, designed misrepresentations, made concerning the rules and regulations under which Mercy hospital is operated.

Neither the management of the campaign now forming to raise funds for the construction of a new Mercy hospital, nor those having the institution in charge desire to receive so much as a dollar under misrepresentation, any more than they wish to see this most worthy undertaking suffer for the same reason.

In order therefore that the public may be fully and clearly informed as to the conduct of the hospital this committee gives the following statement from Sister M. Blandina, who alone is authorized to speak as to its management and operation:

Mr. Edward T. Reed,
Chairman Mercy Campaign Committee:

Dear Sir:—In reference to your inquiry as to the rule of Mercy hospital, with reference to the admission of patients of doctors not on the staff of the hospital, I gladly make the following statement:

Any reputable physician may bring his patient to Mercy hospital, provided he is willing to go into consultation with some member of the staff, into whose department the case will naturally fall. The staff member then assumes responsibility for the case. The patient's regular doctor is at perfect liberty to visit him as often as he may desire and to consult and offer any suggestions he may think advisable.

Here I may say further, that Mercy not only admits all reputable physicians, it actually prefers the patient would bring with him his person or family physician, since long experience teaches it that the knowledge of the case the family doctor must have and consultation between two physicians is likely to produce the best results.

On dismissal of any case it reverts back solely to the personal doctor, neither the hospital nor the staff member having any claim whatsoever on it.

Let me also say here that on this matter of admission if a staff member brings to us a patient that does not fall within his particular department he stands in absolutely the same relation to the case as does the outside doctor.

Mercy hospital welcomes any and all patients, which under present limitations it can properly care for, except, of course, that there are some classes of cases it will not accept at all.

With increased facilities it will have to turn away none, it being our deep regret that at present we have to refuse our services to so many.

SISTER M. BLANDINA.

In this connection we desire to state here that Portsmouth's hospital facilities are entirely inadequate to the needs of the population they are designed to serve. She needs more and must have more adequate means of caring for the sick in the best way.

Mercy hospital, though in operation less than a year is constantly under the regrettable necessity of turning would-be patients away because it is not equipped to minister unto all who apply.

Mercy hospital has already more than justified its name. Being so very small the utmost economy must be exercised in its management, in order that it may not be submerged in debt; yet its financial records for the first six months of its existence—it opened its doors to the sick and afflicted less than a year ago—show its charity work was almost one-third of its cash receipts—in other words one-fourth of its patients were ministered to free. That same mercy is being exercised now, it will not grow less, it will be increased with greater accommodations.

We would not have it overlooked either that Mercy's work is not solely confined to the direct care of the sick, noble as that work is. It conducts a training school for nurses and gives them, through its connection with other institutions, the best courses that are to be had in the country.

Subscriptions for the new hospital will be asked on the quarterly installment plan, extending over a period of two years, beginning July 15th this year. That is if your good heart moves you and your means permit you to give $10, $100 or $1,000, you will pay one-eighth thereof every three months beginning on the date mentioned.

The Portsmouth American Building and Loan Association Company has one asset, none the less real because it is not reflected in a published financial statement—it is the loyalty and friendship of a host of interested shareholders and borrowers who have steadfastly and for many years given material proof of their friendship.

Viewed from a standpoint of the ideals and traditions of this organization, none of our tangible assets could be more highly prized, or of greater commercial value in our plans for the development of home ownership in this community.

Without the past confidence and co-operation of our shareholders and borrowers, we could not have obtained the high plane of service and value to the economic structure of the community, which we are today privileged to occupy.

With the continuance of such trust and confidence—which it shall be our most cherished duty to merit fully—there can be no limit to what we may accomplish for the good of the housing and employment problems now existing here.

This is a company striving to reach the high-

J. BERTRAM SIMON, well-known photographer of Tacoma, Wash., who says that since taking Tanlac with such good results he now knows why everybody is praising this wonderful medicine.

"When they told me about Tanlac it seemed almost too good to be true but since taking the medicine I know for myself that all they said about it was so," said J. Bertram Simon, 1621 E. 46th St., Tacoma, Wash., a well-known photographer.

"I suffered from rheumatism in my shoulders for ten years and at one time had to go to the hospital. I was down in bed for months and hardly able to turn from side to side. I couldn't sleep and I don't believe I had a day free from pain. My appetite failed and I couldn't digest a thing properly. Gas made me have heartburn for hours after meals.

"In a very short time after I started taking Tanlac I actually felt like a new man. I am now entirely rid of rheumatism and my stomach is in first class condition, while I have gained ten pounds and never felt better. I have recommended Tanlac to a number of people and I am always glad to say a good word for this remarkable medicine.

HUNTINGTON TEAM WILL HOOK UP WITH ALL STARS IN MILLBROOK SUNDAY AFTERNOON

West Virginians Will Bring Fast Club For Real Battle

Another fine attraction is scheduled for Millbrook park Sunday afternoon when the strong Huntington team will journey here to meet the All Stars in a battle of skill on the diamond.

This fray promises to be as full of thrills as the combat last Sunday with the Russell outfit and which greatly enthused the fans, although the verdict went against our boys, who will be out there this time with a determination of hanging one on the invading warriors.

Without a doubt there will be something about every minute when these two crack teams get to clashing at each other and indications point to an even bigger throng of lovers of the great pastime being present when the athletes get in action than ever before.

Remember that the admittance price has been reduced and that ladies will be admitted free during the entire month of May.

Offers for a bout with Luis Firpo, pride of the Argentine, in Bucos Aires, and a possible return match with Bill Brennan, who stayed 12 rounds with Dempsey some time ago, are also in prospect.

Harry Willis, colored heavyweight, known as the most formidable of the champions increased their lead as St. Louis lost to Boston 5 to 3, the Red Sox scoring all their runs in the ninth when Van Gilder weakened and Shortstop McManus contributed two fatal errors.

Walker's home run, scoring Johnston ahead of him, broke up a 13 inning duel between Heinrich and Faber and gave the Athletics a 3-1 triumph over Chicago. It was the fourth straight for the Mackmen and put them in undisputed possession of third place as Detroit did not play.

The St. Louis Cardinals went on a batting spree at the expense of Brooklyn, winning 11-0, and gaining on the Giants, who were idle. Sherdel registered his sixth straight victory and Rogers Hornsby clouted his sixth home run.

Chillicothe, May 18—Work on the new Chillicothe Athletic Club Recreation Field is jumping right along. The fence is practically completed and the bleachers and temporary grandstand very nearly finished. The back-stop, supports of which will all be used to support the roof of the grandstand, is in place.

Monday several scraps were at work cutting down the hump back of third base and filling in the low place south of the third sack. With two or three days of warm weather the teams and work gangs will have reached the shore and have stage on the infield, and have it ready for the finishing touches. Considerable work remains to be done in the outfield.

The athletes leave Friday morning with Coach Dan Fries in charge.

TO HOLD MEET IN COLUMBUS COLISEUM

COLUMBUS, O., May 18—Holding of the western intercollegiate wrestling, fencing and gymnastic meet in Columbus next March under the auspices of Ohio State university was approved yesterday by the United States Athletic board. In addition to athletes from Western Conference schools, representatives from three others, Iowa State, Nebraska and Oklahoma, will participate. The meet will be held in the coliseum at the state fair grounds.

Were in Chillicothe

F. E. Bower and W. R. Funderburg of the Overland garage have returned from a business trip to Chillicothe.

AMERICA WILL STAY

AMERICAN troops will not all be home by July 1, as announced by the war department several weeks ago. Following requests not only from all the allies, but from Germany as well, Washington decided to leave one regiment of Yanks on the Rhine.
 Reconsideration of the order for the removal of the troops would indicate that Washington received assurances of payment of the cost of the army of occupation, a mere quarter of a billion. French hesitation to admit America's right to repayment of this sum must have been overcome before Paris joined in the request that American troops stay.
 The Germans, it seems, want the United States to stay because American military co-operation will permit a restraining counsel against "French militarism," and France, Britain and Belgium want this country to remain because of the moral effect of continued union of the allied and associated powers in making Germany toe the line.

The stork comes seldom when room rent comes high.

CRITICIZING FRANCE

FRANCE has come in for a lot of criticism because of her recent attitude toward the rest of the world. But consider her point of view for a moment. France is not separated from Germany and Russia by high mountains or by wide waters; she looks back into the past and remembers that three times since 1800 her territory has been invaded, and that twice the city of Paris itself was captured.
 Not yet have the ruins of the latest invasion been moved away to make way for new cities and towns and villages. Not yet has all the barbed wire been removed from the battlefields of the World War. She wants to know what is to be done to prevent a new invasion at a time inopportune for France. Who is going to tell her? Can she trust England to jump in next time as England did in 1914? Can she trust America to join her as America did, effectively, after France had faced her invaders for more than three years? France feels that she has to look after herself. She knows that when it comes down to brass tacks the world is cold-blooded and that the arrangement of nations next time might be different from that of 1918.
 France is accused of making it difficult for the world to shake down into actual peace with some prospect of its being permanent, but if America had been invaded three times in little more than a hundred years by the same people and if the boundary between the two nations were not a wide ocean and not a high mountain range, would not Americans feel that a good sized army was at least better insurance of peace than a condition of comparative weakness?

WE LIVE FAST, NOT LONG

MUCH was made of the findings of several scientific investigators last year purporting to show that the traditional "three score and ten," the span of human life, has been considerably extended by the advance in the science of medicine and hygiene, and that even better things are to come.

But there were many to doubt the accuracy of these dicta and prophecies, and now the suspicions of the doubting Thomases have received confirmation. A study of the figures of the recent census which gave the first hint that the average span of life, for persons who have reached the fiftieth year, has been decreasing rather than increasing, receives further bolstering by investigations made by Dr. M. P. Ravenel, head of the public health laboratories at the University of Missouri. He shows rather conclusively that the improvement in the mortality figures achieved by modern science has had to do almost entirely with conservation of the lives of infants. There was room for vast improvement here, as examination of the health records of any community of a half century ago will disclose.

Dr. Ravenel shows that of the 12 countries, Australia, Denmark, England, Norway, Germany, Holland, Italy, Sweden, Switzerland, France, India and Japan only the last three have less favorable longevity prospects than the United States. This can scarcely be a matter of very great surprise to any one who has meditated upon the pace at which we have been living in this country for the last generation and more. This is not the fault of our scientists at all, for they have shown that they are capable of greatly improving the health of every young American. But when these very young graduate from the nurseries they cannot be controlled by the doctors. We simply will not behave; we scorn the advice of the medical man. Everybody lives fast and hard here, and it is necessary to be in the swim.

Dr. Ravenel's report is a danger signal, but will we heed it? That envoy New South Wales is sending to America to learn the truth about prohibition here, for example there, has some job ahead of him.

H. G. Wells says his unfitness as a dry goods clerk forced him into literature, but he should not have become discouraged by one unsuccessful change of occupation.

Prohibition, an enforcement official exults, is paying 300 per cent profit to the United States. Why not pass a hundred or two more laws like that and wipe out the federal deficit?

The girl who wants something that will last will let nature put the red in her cheeks.

When a man starts to blow his own horn, why does he always select an instrument that is not adapted to solo work?

If Conan Doyle wants to make a real hit, why doesn't he tell how to get spirits out of government warehouses?

"Made in Genoa" doesn't appear to be in a good way of becoming the label on the peace-war articles.

Why not cut the word "obey" out of the marriage ceremony? Nowadays they cut it out at the cradle.

This country spends $70,000,000 annually on cosmetics, which explains why its soap bill is so small.

Lady Nancy Astor has not found occasion to be offended at American press comment about her.

THE BIBLE IN PICTURES AND TEXT

By HELEN E. OHRENSCHALL

MOSES BREAKS THE TABLES OF STONE

MOSES turned and went down Mount Sinai with the two tables of stone on which were written the Ten Commandments. Joshua was with him. As they came near the camp they heard the people shouting and singing and as they came nearer Moses saw the golden calf and the people dancing about it. This made him very angry and he threw the tables of stone down the mountain. They were broken in many pieces. Moses took the calf, burned it, then ground it into dust which he strewn upon the water and made the children of Israel drink of it.

New York-Day-By-Day

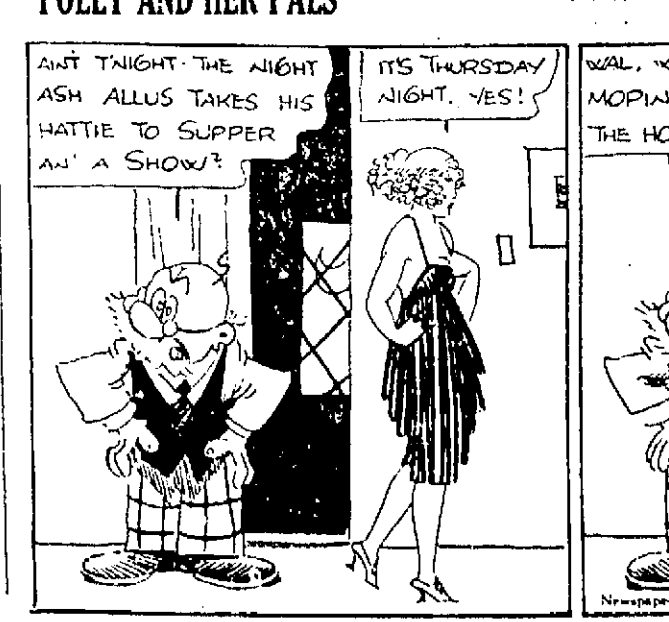

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 18.—It was characteristic of Nick Carter—in real life Col. Frederick Dey—to offer the clerk in the hotel where an hour later he pistolled himself to death because of poverty, a job as manager of his great California fruit farm. Col. Dey lived in a world of dreams. When the reality of stark penury thwarted him he paid the price for his dreams.
 In his own eyes he was an eighteenth century dandy in high boots and ever ready rapier—a facile sophist who stormed moated castles over back room saloon tables dripping with beer. He did not belong to the "Algonquin Intelligentsia," these gay men of letters who hold capricious fashions with pretty phrases and verdant quips while the tea is brewing.
 Even his title of "Colonel" came from his imagination, although he looked the part. His silken Bret Harte mustache and finely chiseled face suggested the furred high hat, the stock and red sash. He was a swash-buckling figure, open-lunged and extremely lovable.
 He lived in the world of his penny-dreadful imaginings—the King in bed of the Pot Boilers. He was one of the most prolific writers the world has ever known. In the days when Nick Carter was Boyland's favorite hero, he perhaps never made more than $100 a week. Debt was ever at his heels.
 Yet in the afternoon he could be found at the old Hoffman House bar, the center of gay company, spinning tales of high adventure. Plagued by poverty, his spirits seemed to bubble even more. He believed, when the movies came, that Nick Carter would be the world's favorite movie character.
 His books were despised by high-browers, yet men who have risen to the presidency read them. Virtue always triumphed and vice failed. That cannot be said for some of the best sellers today nor for the best plays. In his last few years Col. Dey tried to stem the tide by writing red-inked mystery stories under the name of "Varick Fanard." His last letter was to Inspector Joseph Faurot, the great criminal investigator, and long time friend.
 It was a gay little play New York dramatic critics gave for leading stage stars the other day. The critics wagged they could do it—write

Doc Koko's KOLUM

Dust
 Charles G. Collin, in Leslie's Weekly
 The dust of dusty ages. The windswept clay of yesterday. The dust of fools and sages.
 Here Anthony again may meet His Cleo so entrancing. And through the town whirl gaily down Upon the pavement dancing.
 Or sitting in some calm retreat A garden wall encloses. Beneath a bough old Omar now A dryer verse composes.
 The dust is swirling down the street, Perchance among the masses, Beneath the heat of busy feet The learned Plato passes.
 One of the Family
 Did you ever come into close relationship with poverty? Well, I've gotten as far as my uncle's several times.
 It was Well Written
 "What do you think of it?" asked the bard of the editor who sat reading the manuscript with a dubious air.
 "You write well."
 "Thank you. My friends tell me I have some literary talent."
 "Yes," continued the editor, ignoring the last remark, "you make a pretty capital 'D,' and your 'T's,' which so many people stumble over, are as perfect specimens of penmanship as I ever saw."
 Wisely Said
 Many a young daughter resembles her mother because they dress alike. The clothes that make the woman are what breaks the men.
 It's a loss up whether women get more with tests or rolling pins. Some of them have movie faces because they remove the man night.
 Before marriage many a young man thinks all women look like the pictures in the corset ads.
 A Memory
 "You talk about the good old days and the fun you used to have. Why, you didn't even have moving pictures!"
 "No, my boy, it's true we didn't have moving pictures; but we had living pictures."—from Judge.
 What Is Reciprocity, Pa?
 "Ben Ross bet and lost on a horse. But next day recovered the loss. From the fellow who beat him. Ross managed to cheat him. Cried Ross, 'Come across! Reciprocity!'"
